

John Updike, of Babson Park, is a third generation citrus grower and the president of Alcoma Properties, Ltd. and Updike Enterprises, Inc. Updike has a bachelor's degree in commerce from Washington and Lee University and an Education for Ministry from the School of Theology at the University of the South. Updike has served on the Polk County Farm Bureau Board, Polk County Board of Adjustment and Polk County Code Enforcement Board. He is a former member of the "No Name Group" and the Ridge Runners. He is presently working with a group building a school for ESE children. He is married to Penny McKay, has five children and 10 grandchildren.