Mr. Kress made a motion to approve reimbursement of the UF facilitators’ time and travel up to $2,500.00. The motion was seconded by Mr. Newlin and passed unanimously.

Dr. Irani outlined the goals for the day of prioritizing the strategic plan initiatives for the next six years. Members of the Board provided input on prioritization of the initiatives as well as outlining those that do... not fall under the Foundation mission, but for which the Foundation could provide direction or facilitation. The discussion covered a range of issues including how CRDF might look at the core initiatives, short-term topics and mid-long term initiatives, and make early progress in implementing these two initiatives. While the entire set of initiatives were covered in a broad discussion, these first two were highlighted as most important for CRDF to address in the short term. Board members agreed that these should remain the core area for CRDF attention. During the discussion of Initiative number 2, mid-long-term solutions, Dr. Irani invited Dr. Tim Anglea of Coca-Cola to present an overview of Engaging the Private Sector in Citrus Greening Research, outlining the challenges of the research and funding, and outlined a 5-year program totaling $29.8MM involving Bayer CropScience, to facilitate rapid development and commercialization of new bactericides. Collaborations mentioned in the presentation included Dr. Kim Lewis, Northeastern University, for culturing CLas and developing a screen for new active ingredients; the IBM Silicon Valley research facility in Almaden for providing Antimicrobial Polymers, and the Bayer CropScience R&D community. The program outlined a funding consortium involving the Coca Cola Company, Pepsico, as well as substantial funding requests that would have to be made to the USDA and to the CRDF. Mr. Kress made a motion to direct Staff to sort out the funding availability questions and direct Dr. Anglea and his colleagues to obtain additional details on the project from Bayer CropScience. The motion was seconded by Mr. Hancock and passed unanimously.

The strategic planning discussion resumed with plans for next steps, including a set of recommendations to be brought forward at the next board meeting based on the discussion of the first two initiatives, as well as continued discussion of how CRDF can participate and contribute to meeting the other initiatives outlined in the strategic planning report.
